

Charities for 2010 Read-a-thon

The 2010 Read-a-thon will raise money for both ECLC and the charities listed below. The theme is “Blast off into reading” and “Books 4 books”. ECLC children will be assisting other children to blast off into reading by reading books and any money that they raise will go towards buying books for children less fortunate than themselves.

School Without Borders – is a new international school for immigrant workers who have extremely low incomes. This school is being funded by a group of charities to provide education where these children would normally miss out. An ECLC teacher is assisting with the writing of the curriculum. The school is due to open its doors in September.

Namsanwon – is an orphanage here in Seoul that caters to children from 2 to 21 years of age. They have 56 children currently living there.

Hyesimwon - is an orphanage here in Seoul that caters to children from birth to 18 years of age. They have 49 children currently living there.

Sungrowon - is an orphanage here in Seoul that caters to children from birth to 12 years of age. They have 72 children currently living there.
